

Ms. Anasia Saria

Ms. Anasia Saria is a trained Natural Resource Scientist at the University of Dar es Salaam, Tanzania and registered Environmental Impact Assessment (EIA) expert by the National Environmental Management Council (NEMC). Anasia has over 5 years of teaching and consulting experience in Environmental and Natural Resource Management issues. Anasia aims at providing consultancy services in the field of Environmental and Social Impact Assessment. Currently, she is an Assistant Lecturer in Geography at Mkwawa University College of Education, a constituent College of University of Dar es Salaam. She is also a competent consultant in various disciplines including but not limited to climate change, natural resource management, agriculture and food security, Geographical Information System, gender and resource use

Contacts

Email: asaria40@gmail.com

Mobile: 0684489192

Selected Publication

Saria, A. E. (2015). Impact of Biofuels Investment on Livelihoods of the Rural Community in Kisarawe District

Poster Presentation

Saria, A. E. and Siebenhuener, B. (2015) Examining the Extent of Resource Uses and the Associated Land Use and Land Cover Changes in Pastoral Areas of Manyara in Tanzania. Gustav-Stresemann-Institut e.V. in Bonn-Bad Godesberg

Consultations

Environmental Audit for African Plantation Kilimanjaro Limited in 2017.

Environmental screening of Proposed Milling Warehouse for Sadani farmers Cooperative Society in Mufindi, Iringa , Tanzania in 2017.

Socio-Economic Assessments and Environmental Impact Assessment (EIA) for two Proposed Hydro Power Projects in Unilever Tea Tanzania Limited in Mufindi in 2016.

Environmental and Social Impact Statement of proposed Bunju residential housing Construction project at Mabwepande Area, Kinondoni Municipality, Dar es Salaam in 2015.

Environmental Impact Assessment of proposed Communication Towers construction at Veyula Village in Dodoma Urban, Dodoma Region in 2013.