

Mr Chakupewa Joseph Mpambije is a lecturer in Development Studies in the Department of History, Political Science and Development Studies at Mkwawa University College of Education (MUCE). He holds Master of Arts in Development Management at UDSM and BA Education at the same University. Currently, he is pursuing PhD in Development Studies at UDSM. His interest includes; healthy system governance and management, health and development, maternal and child health issues and local government reforms with focus on health. He has fairly researched and published in refereed journals with nine published journals articles and two book chapters.