

Dr. Shakila Halifan Mteti is a lecturer in History section at Mkwawa University College of Education (MUCE). Shakila has trained in archaeology and History issues. Shakila started her career in higher learning at MUCE in 2006 as an Assistant Lecturer and rose to the position of Lecturer in 2015. Before joining Mkwawa University, Shakila worked as archaeologists and conservator at Isimila Stone Age site located at Iringa, Southern Highland of Tanzania. Shakila holds a BA and MA (Archaeology), PhD (History) at the University of Dar es Salaam. Shakila's areas of interest include gender studies, indigenous technologies particularly iron and pottery production, public archaeology, cultural heritage management, agriculture and women studies.