

Ms Anselmina Albin Shinyaka is a tutorial assistant at Mkwawa University College of Education in the Language and Literature unit. Her interest is in applied linguistics which tries to solve language-related problems in the society. Her research areas include second language learning, translation, stylistics and lexicography. She is currently doing a Master degree at the University of Dar es Salaam. Her research project is titled The Perception of the Lexical Errors in the English Subtitles of the Bongo Movies by the Swahili Learners of English. Ms Shinyaka believes that movie subtitles of foreign languages are a tool for language learning; however, when there are errors in these subtitles, they threaten the development of the on-going learned second language. Before that, Anselmina studied a bachelor degree of Art with Education at the University of Dar es Salaam and for one year she worked as an English teacher at Mlewa secondary school in Manyoni Singida- Tanzania.
