

Ms. Anna Mwambala is an Assistant Lecturer in the department of Biological sciences, Mkwawa University College of Education, which is the Constituent College of the University of Dar Es Salaam, Tanzania. She pursued both B.Sc. (Education) and M.Sc. Biodiversity Conservation at the University of Dar es Salaam. She is experienced conservationist with research interest in insect ecology, conservation, taxonomy and climate change. Ms Anna teaches invertebrate related course. Ms Anna is currently pursuing her Doctorate studies at the University of Dar es salaam under NORHED project.

Contact; amwambala@yahoo.com

Contact: +255 755086135